1   Introduction

Nyr: The last stand is a RPG (Role playing game). It is currently in an alpha-state and planned to be playable on desktop. You will embody a viking from a small clan of Norway: Vargfell. Unfortunately its population is condemned. Within two winters your clan will be out of supplies.

To save them you must train with the best warriors of Vargfell in order to face enemies and loot undiscovered islands.

You will need to craft your weapons. Shields, axes and swords will be your best chance at saving your island. You will be able to buy some food to stay strong as you fight fiercer and fiercer enemies.

3.2   The game

3.2.1   The goal

You will embody a viking warrior from the small clan of Vargfell. The fangs of the cold still bites the clans of Norway. Your village is in great danger. In two winters you will lack of supplies and the famine will hit your clan. You will need to go plunder island and fight enemies on randomly generated islands to save them from the famine. You will never be out of other clans to loot.

3.2.2   Control keys

To move your player you can left click on the map wherever you want to go.
The right click of the mouse can be used to pick up items and open chests.
The keys A/D and the right and left arrow allow you to rotate the camera.
The keys I/Tab allow you to open the inventory.
The key S allows you to open the save menu to save or load a game.
The key ESC allows you to quit the game at any time.

3.2.3   Non playable characters

You can also interact with the three non-playable characters of Vargfell. If you go near enough to them it will pop a menu with a different camera angle. You can talk to them by clicking on "Start conversation". You can also leave the conversation anytime by clicking on "Leave conversation" or by go far enough from them. Bob will help you to craft the equipment you will need to fight your enemies and Karl will provide the food and drink that will boost your health when you're feeling low. Nora will help you travel safely to the training island and the enemy lands.

3.2.4   Stats

There are two bars one the screen one for the player's health and on for the xp. The health bar is full at the start of each games and it lowers as you take damages from enemies. The xp bar will fill up each time you kill an enemy to upgrade your level.
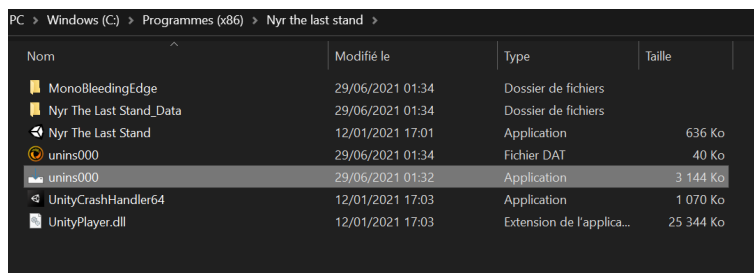

4   Uninstalling

To uninstall the game, it is really simple. You just have to right click on the desktop icon of the game to display a menu. From there you can click on "Open file location".
